Experience:

Seumas has a 30+ year track record of significant achievements as CEO and in 'C'-level roles across the globe. His range of industry experience includes technology, shipping, telecommunications, property development and financial services.

The base of Seumas's skillset is a superior organisational capability coupled with financial nous. He combines this with a defined management philosophy and a straightforward, common-sense approach to business management. He brings a strong analytical and balance sheet management mindset to a business, rapidly able to understand its intrinsic values, and act on them.

He has continued his career through projects including turnaround situations, interim executive appointments, customer service efficiency, process improvement, and leadership development in a wide range of diverse industries.

In the Middle East, he has been a corporate adviser and special projects executive in company workouts, restructuring, and the creation of policy and procedure documents, as well as in corporate governance.

Seumas is also an accomplished wordsmith, a best-selling author, and applies that skill set to issues such as English content and narrative for company Annual Reports, corporate public documents, and marketing brochure kits.
